

Children's Sweaters

A splendid assortment of Children's Sweaters, and they are priced very low.

50c, 75c, 98c, $1.50 and $2.00

A new lot of one-piece House Dresses at $1.00, $1.25 and $2.50.

THE DESIGNER FOR OCTOBER JUST IN

PERRY & CAMP.

Telephone 258-4. 71 and 75 Main Street, Barre, Vermont.

A Helpful Furniture, Carpet Rug, and Wall Paper Store Is at Your Service

If we solve the home-furnishing problem for you with wise suggestions or good advice then we have taken the first step upward toward winning your regular trade.

But only the first step! Time must prove the wisdom of your choosing this store. Time is the true leveler. That is the test we seek.

Because no perfect whole exists without its parts are perfect, we cannot expect to be really "helpful" with out fair prices for dependable quality and artistic beauty in the Furniture, Carpets, Rugs, and Wall Papers we sell. Our time is your time and it is "at your service" to prove our helpfulness.

B. W. HOOKER & CO.,

UNDERTAKERS FUNERAL DIRECTORS LICENSED EMBALMERS
HOSPITAL AMBULANCE SERVICE — ORDERS PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO TELEPHONE 87-11. ALSO ORANGE COUNTY PHONE.

WHY should you burn

a hod of coal and make the whole house uncomfortably warm just to heat a flat iron?

Try the ELECTRIC METHOD

"Nothing hot but the iron"

Simple, safe, sure, economical, clean, always ready. Heat turns on and off like an incandescent lamp

CUSHMAN & WARD

1 Pearl Street

TALK OF THE TOWN

Table girl wanted at the hotel Otis.

L. A. Curtis went to Springfield, Mass., to-day to work.

William Brodie went to Burlington to-day for a visit with friends.

See Abbott's display of misses' and children's fall and winter coats.

New outing flannel night robes—the "Royal" makes, at Veale & Knight's.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Salisbury of Randolph were visitors in the city to-day.

Lawrence W. Finn of Philadelphia is spending a week in the city on business.

Charles Davis of the Davis Granite company, New York, is in the city on a business visit.

Fancy canning peaches now on hand. Prices low and goods delivered free at Divers Fruit Co.

A chicken-pie supper will be served at the Universalist church next Tuesday evening, Sept. 20.

Regular meeting of Bright Star Rebekah lodge Wednesday evening, September 14, at 8 o'clock.

Regular meeting of Winnetka council, No. 10, D. of P., I. O. R. M., Thursday, September 15, at 7 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Caron left this noon on a week's visit with relatives in Boston and Taunton, Mass.

There will be a meeting of the L. A. A. O. H. Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the K. of C. hall.

Miss Agnes Nash returned this afternoon to her home in Burlington, after a visit with friends in the city.

Never before did the ladies of Barre buy such petticoats as are now on sale at the Paris Shirtwaist House.

E. A. Brown had three Buick touring cars arrive to-day, which he will have on exhibition at the Northfield fair.

Mrs. Harold Barton left this noon for her home in Boston, after a visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Ayers.

The regular monthly meeting of the hospital trustees will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the house of Dr. Chandler.

The funeral of Grace Barnard will be held from her late home Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. E. C. Downey will officiate.

Shepard's Gun Store will be open every evening until 8 o'clock, so that patrons renting guns may return them after the day's hunt.

William McDonald of John street returned Monday evening from a three months' visit in Scotland and has resumed his work in The Times office.

E. M. Tynntor, who has been confined at his home on Merchant street since the first of the month, is improving slowly. He will be pleased to have any of his friends call.

The two special trains of eight cars, which left at 7:30 and at 11:45 this morning for the Northfield fair, took about 250 people from this city, which is considerably below the number that usually go from here every year.

Miss Annie McDonald of Elm street returned yesterday afternoon, after a month's visit in Boston. She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Martin, who were returning by automobile after a week's trip to Boston and New Hampshire.

I. O. O. L. M. U.: The Odd Ladies are to have their annual fair October 12, 13, 14 and 15, in the Howland & Cave hall, with Riley's orchestra. The ladies are working hard to make this a record fair. Remember the dates—the week after the Woodmen's fair.

Tuesday arrivals at hotel Otis were as follows: A. L. Kimball, Providence, R. I.; J. B. Wallace, New York City; A. J. Foster, Troy, N. Y.; D. A. Peck, Brandon; H. W. Heath, Plainfield; H. P. Prindle, Burlington; J. A. Speare, Detroit, Mich.; W. B. Goodenow, T. J. Dumford, L. Liberson, Boston; T. J. Murdoch, Spencer, Ia.; L. J. Adams, Toronto, Ont.; Albert Hathaway, Danbury, Conn.; L. A. Morgan, Westfield; H. A. Connolly, Detroit, Mich.; C. A. Burbank, J. A. Burbank, Salem, Mass.

ORANGE.

Mrs. Harlie Barnes is on the sick list. George Clarke was in Bradford Monday.

Several of our people are attending the fair at Northfield this week.

Charles Perry of Plainfield is spending a few days at P. P. Mills', his uncle.

Eugene Tillotson has gone to Rutland, having a job in the Howe scale works.

Charles Peake and family went to Barnet Sunday for a week's outing at the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Mills left Monday for Atlanta, Ga., the former home of Mrs. Mills.

Mrs. Albert Badger of East Montpelier spent Friday and Saturday with her daughter, Mrs. Edwin Peake.

John Clark has purchased the stage route from West Topsham to East Barre from C. M. Tuttle, taking possession of the same Monday. H. S. Clark will drive for two weeks.

An Item Corrected.

Dr. G. L. T. Hayes of Graniteville wishes to correct an item in yesterday's Times, viz., "Lady Johnson, who has been passing several days in this city, the guest of Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Stephenson of Merchant street, returned yesterday to her home in Montreal."

This is a mistake. Lady Johnson, during her four weeks' visit to this vicinity, never passed one day in the city of Barre, but was exclusively the guest of her brother in Graniteville. Just before leaving for Montreal on Monday, she accompanied a friend, who wished to call on Dr. and Mrs. Stephenson. Sir Gordon and Lady Johnson returned to Montreal Monday evening.

Cat of Thanks.

We wish to thank all the friends who so kindly assisted us during the illness and at the death of our beloved daughter and sister, Emmeline Campbell, also for the many beautiful flowers sent.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. D. Graham, Mr. Lawrence Graham, Miss Gertrude E. Graham.

Solon Underwood of South London, derry, dies all of his farm week with the exception of the plowing with a three-year-old bull. He often latches the animal to a wagon and drives about town.

TALK OF THE TOWN.

Sewing machines at Fitts' for $15.95.

All kinds of guns at Shepard's at the lowest prices.

House dresses below cost at the Paris Shirtwaist House.

Mrs. George Carle went to Groton this morning for a few days' visit with friends.

Shop stewards are requested to call at headquarters for their Quarry Workers' Journals.

Mrs. H. W. Scott and daughter, Doris, left this noon for Mystic, Conn., where her daughter will enter the Mystic Oral school.

Miss Belle Chandler of Walpole, Mass., is visiting friends in the city. Miss Chandler was formerly employed in the telephone office in this city.

A VERY PLEASANT HOME.

All Because of the Way He Solved the Closet Space Problem.

I must tell all my brothers how my wife and I have solved the problem which so bothers those who dwell where there is but little closet room.

With one dressing case between us, there was not room for all our things. As to the closets, they were crammed full, and even under the bed there were many hat boxes. So I purchased another dressing case.

I then took all my clothes, which had been crowding my wife's in her dressing case, and arranged them in my own. In the top drawer I put my handkerchiefs, collars and ties and all those other little articles of finery which every man loves so much.

In the second drawer I placed my shirts and underwear and devoted the lower drawer to my trousers, neatly folded, and my hosiery. My wife was delighted, as it gave her her own dresser all to herself and relieved the closet somewhat.

But in a day or so the new plan proved to have a few defects, so at my wife's suggestion I emptied one of the upper drawers in my dresser, putting its contents into the other and allowed my wife to use the now vacant receptacle for a few of her jabots, scarfs, etc.

The second day it was decided that my shirts and trousers could occupy the same drawer, the lowest one, so this was fixed, and into the second drawer my wife moved a few of her petticoats and such things.

Soon finding that I was still using too much space, I permitted her to put my collars and such effects into the lowest drawer with my trousers, etc., thus giving her both of the upper drawers and the next and still leaving me plenty of room in the one bottom drawer.

Since then, however, I have found that I do not require so much space for my few things, so have taken them out of the bottom drawer and packed them into a hat box, which I keep under the bed, thereby giving my wife all the drawers in my dressing case. I find the present arrangement very satisfactory, as all I have to do now is to empty the hat box on the bed when I want anything in it and then, when I have made my selection, sweep the other articles back into place.

In this way I have solved the dressing case problem, and everything is quite pleasant in our home.—Paul West in Dellnestor.

Early Landholding.

Nothing is clearer than the fact that the system of landholding in the most ancient races was communal. Private right in land was for a long time unknown, the source of life being held in common between the members of the tribe. Not only land, but all property that in any way had to do with the general welfare, was looked upon as belonging to the whole tribe in common, no individual having the right to call it his own. Gradually and after a very long time, under the old regime, the right of private ownership began to creep in until at last it became the recognized rule pretty nearly everywhere.—New York American.

The Front End.

A young couple had been married by a Quaker, and after the ceremony he remarked to the husband:

"Friend, thou art at the end of thy troubles."

A few weeks after the man came to the good minister boiling over with rage, having found his wife to be a regular vixen, and said:

"I thought you told me I was at the end of my troubles."

"So I did, friend, but I did not say which end," replied the Quaker.

Way It Goes.

"Give 'em what they want, my boy," said the old physician.

"For instance?" inquired the young medico.

"Well, many a woman will take oxygen treatment at $5 a throw who wouldn't spend car fare for fresh air,"—Washington Herald.

Aids to Conversation.

"Books help a man's conversation."

"Undoubtedly. But the man who buys them seldom gets to be as good a talker as the man who sold them to him."—Washington Star.

Reliance on the right is expressed by defiance of the wrong.

TOO LATE TO BE CLASSIFIED.

NOTICE.

This is to give notice that my wife having left my bed and board, I will pay no debts of her contracting on and after this date.

East Barre, Sept. 14, 1910. PATREY RUSSA. 15413

FOR SALE—Sixty canaries raised from foreign birds. Good singers and bright plumage. Mrs. George E. C. Weston, R. F. D. No. 1, Barre, Vt. Telephone connection. 15414

WANTED—A second-hand stone wagon; one of medium or heavy capacity, in running, give price, capacity, and time same has been in service. Address "C," Times office. 15415

LOST—$1000 gold piece between postoffice corridor and card in front of postoffice. Will the finder please return to this office and be rewarded? 15411

FOR SALE—Seven grade Holstein heifers; also six registered Holstein heifers. Apply to W. J. Cave, Orange, Vt., or address Barre, R. F. D. No. 4, or telephone People's line. 15412

A. P. ABBOTT & CO. A. P. ABBOTT & CO. A. P. ABBOTT & CO.

Always Doing a Little Better!

One of our aims in the way of good store service is to make our place the most convenient one possible to shop in. The new addition to our Garment Department gives us a large addition to that department, and will add much to the convenience of our trade. Our new Shirt Waist and Lace Curtain and Drapery Department will add much to the store. Our new Work and Fitting Rooms will add much to the convenience of the department and give us the best Ready-made Department to be found in the State. Our fall lines are now nearly all in the departments and we will be able to give you some of the best values we ever put out.

Misses' Junior Suits

We now have one of the largest and best line of Misses' Junior Suits we have ever shown. The continuous increased demand for these popular Suits has put the manufacturers to studying these styles, as much as the ladies' Suits.

At $10.00 we have one of the best values in a Misses' Junior Suit we ever put out. Suit is made of a good all-wool broadcloth, coat is made 30 inches long, is finished with black satin collar and braid on collar and cuffs; has a good, full flare skirt.

At $12.00 is a Junior Suit, made of a good quality wide wale serge, which is a very popular cloth. Suit is made in a 30-inch plain tailored style, with a good full-plaited skirt. Is an extra value at $12.00.

At $15.00 is a Suit made of a fine wide wale serge. Coat is made 30-inch length, is finished with a heavy satin band around collar, cuffs and pockets. Skirt is finished in a new plaited style.

At $16.50 is a fine Junior Suit, made of a fancy striped broadcloth, in one of the best styles of the season.

Ladies' and Misses' Fall and Winter Coats

We now have a good line of the new Fall and Winter Coats ready for the early trade and this season the earlier you make your selections the more sure you are to get what you want.

At $15.00 are some extra values in a mixed Gray Coat with a convertible storm collar; are full length and make a good heavy storm Coat and one you can wear clear up into the winter.

At $20.00 are a number of popular Suits, made in serge, broadcloth and the popular wide wale serges. Some of these Suits are plain tailored; others are braid and satin trimmed.

At $25.00 we will give you one of the strongest lines of Suits we have ever shown. Here are Suits made in the season's best styles and of fine, fancy worsteds of the hard-twisted mannish goods, which will wear like iron and has a weight that will keep in shape.

At $30.00 is a line of Sample Suits in a number of the most popular styles of the season and of cloths that are the season's best values. See the values early.

Ladies' Tailored Coats

Nearly every express brings new Suit values into our department, and now that the strike is settled we will be able to fill all orders pretty nearly on time.

The line of Suits we are putting out at $15.00 contains some of the best values we have ever shown. Suits are made of a fine invisible striped worsted; coat is 34 inches long and is made plain tailored style; has a full-plaited skirt.

At $18.00 we will give you some good values in plain Tailored Suits of heavy serge and broadcloth. These are Suits that have a good satin lining and a heavy back stay. Skirt is one of the best styles.

At $20.00 are a number of popular Suits, made in serge, broadcloth and the popular wide wale serges. Some of these Suits are plain tailored; others are braid and satin trimmed.

At $25.00 we will give you one of the strongest lines of Suits we have ever shown. Here are Suits made in the season's best styles and of fine, fancy worsteds of the hard-twisted mannish goods, which will wear like iron and has a weight that will keep in shape.

At $30.00 is a line of Sample Suits in a number of the most popular styles of the season and of cloths that are the season's best values. See the values early.

The Daylight Store

A DREAM JOURNEY.

It Was a Very Long One, but It Took Only a Few Minutes.

"Dreams are curious things," remarked the amateur psychologist.

"Time does not seem to enter into their composition at all. For instance, the other day I was sitting on the porch of a hotel with a friend of mine smoking after lunch. It was a drowsy day, and conversation lagged. Presently I saw my friend nodding in his chair. He had dozed off, holding his lighted cigar in his left hand, which was folded over his right. His left hand relaxed, and the end of the cigar came in gentle contact with the right hand, inflicting a slight burn."

"The devil it won't!" exclaimed my friend, waking with a start.

"The sentence sounded so incongruous that I burst out laughing. 'Won't what?' I asked."

"How long have I been asleep?" he asked.

"Not more than a couple of minutes," I replied.

"It doesn't seem possible," he said. "During that time I had a dream that pretty nearly took me around the world. I sailed for Southampton, did England, France, Switzerland and a part of Italy, then through the orient to India. It was in India that I became much interested in one of the native snake charmers. He had the snakes crawling all over him and offered me one to fondle. I told him I was afraid it would bite me. He assured me that it wouldn't, and I took the reptile in my hand. It promptly fastened its fangs in me. I said, 'The devil it won't!' and dropped it, and then I woke up."

"I explained the episode of the lighted cigar," concluded the amateur psychologist, "and we both laughed."—New York Sun.

"Not more than a couple of minutes," I replied.

"It doesn't seem possible," he said. "During that time I had a dream that pretty nearly took me around the world. I sailed for Southampton, did England, France, Switzerland and a part of Italy, then through the orient to India. It was in India that I became much interested in one of the native snake charmers. He had the snakes crawling all over him and offered me one to fondle. I told him I was afraid it would bite me. He assured me that it wouldn't, and I took the reptile in my hand. It promptly fastened its fangs in me. I said, 'The devil it won't!' and dropped it, and then I woke up."

"I explained the episode of the lighted cigar," concluded the amateur psychologist, "and we both laughed."—New York Sun.

"Not more than a couple of minutes," I replied.

"It doesn't seem possible," he said. "During that time I had a dream that pretty nearly took me around the world. I sailed for Southampton, did England, France, Switzerland and a part of Italy, then through the orient to India. It was in India that I became much interested in one of the native snake charmers. He had the snakes crawling all over him and offered me one to fondle. I told him I was afraid it would bite me. He assured me that it wouldn't, and I took the reptile in my hand. It promptly fastened its fangs in me. I said, 'The devil it won't!' and dropped it, and then I woke up."

"I explained the episode of the lighted cigar," concluded the amateur psychologist, "and we both laughed."—New York Sun.

"Not more than a couple of minutes," I replied.

"It doesn't seem possible," he said. "During that time I had a dream that pretty nearly took me around the world. I sailed for Southampton, did England, France, Switzerland and a part of Italy, then through the orient to India. It was in India that I became much interested in one of the native snake charmers. He had the snakes crawling all over him and offered me one to fondle. I told him I was afraid it would bite me. He assured me that it wouldn't, and I took the reptile in my hand. It promptly fastened its fangs in me. I said, 'The devil it won't!' and dropped it, and then I woke up."

"I explained the episode of the lighted cigar," concluded the amateur psychologist, "and we both laughed."—New York Sun.

"Not more than a couple of minutes," I replied.

"It doesn't seem possible," he said. "During that time I had a dream that pretty nearly took me around the world. I sailed for Southampton, did England, France, Switzerland and a part of Italy, then through the orient to India. It was in India that I became much interested in one of the native snake charmers. He had the snakes crawling all over him and offered me one to fondle. I told him I was afraid it would bite me. He assured me that it wouldn't, and I took the reptile in my hand. It promptly fastened its fangs in me. I said, 'The devil it won't!' and dropped it, and then I woke up."

"I explained the episode of the lighted cigar," concluded the amateur psychologist, "and we both laughed."—New York Sun.

"Not more than a couple of minutes," I replied.

"It doesn't seem possible," he said. "During that time I had a dream that pretty nearly took me around the world. I sailed for Southampton, did England, France, Switzerland and a part of Italy, then through the orient to India. It was in India that I became much interested in one of the native snake charmers. He had the snakes crawling all over him and offered me one to fondle. I told him I was afraid it would bite me. He assured me that it wouldn't, and I took the reptile in my hand. It promptly fastened its fangs in me. I said, 'The devil it won't!' and dropped it, and then I woke up."

"I explained the episode of the lighted cigar," concluded the amateur psychologist, "and we both laughed."—New York Sun.

"Not more than a couple of minutes," I replied.

"It doesn't seem possible," he said. "During that time I had a dream that pretty nearly took me around the world. I sailed for Southampton, did England, France, Switzerland and a part of Italy, then through the orient to India. It was in India that I became much interested in one of the native snake charmers. He had the snakes crawling all over him and offered me one to fondle. I told him I was afraid it would bite me. He assured me that it wouldn't, and I took the reptile in my hand. It promptly fastened its fangs in me. I said, 'The devil it won't!' and dropped it, and then I woke up."

"I explained the episode of the lighted cigar," concluded the amateur psychologist, "and we both laughed."—New York Sun.

"Not more than a couple of minutes," I replied.

"It doesn't seem possible," he said. "During that time I had a dream that pretty nearly took me around the world. I sailed for Southampton, did England, France, Switzerland and a part of Italy, then through the orient to India. It was in India that I became much interested in one of the native snake charmers. He had the snakes crawling all over him and offered me one to fondle. I told him I was afraid it would bite me. He assured me that it wouldn't, and I took the reptile in my hand. It promptly fastened its fangs in me. I said, 'The devil it won't!' and dropped it, and then I woke up."

"I explained the episode of the lighted cigar," concluded the amateur psychologist, "and we both laughed."—New York Sun.

"Not more than a couple of minutes," I replied.

"It doesn't seem possible," he said. "During that time I had a dream that pretty nearly took me around the world. I sailed for Southampton, did England, France, Switzerland and a part of Italy, then through the orient to India. It was in India that I became much interested in one of the native snake charmers. He had the snakes crawling all over him and offered me one to fondle. I told him I was afraid it would bite me. He assured me that it wouldn't, and I took the reptile in my hand. It promptly fastened its fangs in me. I said, 'The devil it won't!' and dropped it, and then I woke up."

"I explained the episode of the lighted cigar," concluded the amateur psychologist, "and we both laughed."—New York Sun.

"Not more than a couple of minutes," I replied.

"It doesn't seem possible," he said. "During that time I had a dream that pretty nearly took me around the world. I sailed for Southampton, did England, France, Switzerland and a part of Italy, then through the orient to India. It was in India that I became much interested in one of the native snake charmers. He had the snakes crawling all over him and offered me one to fondle. I told him I was afraid it would bite me. He assured me that it wouldn't, and I took the reptile in my hand. It promptly fastened its fangs in me. I said, 'The devil it won't!' and dropped it, and then I woke up."

"I explained the episode of the lighted cigar," concluded the amateur psychologist, "and we both laughed."—New York Sun.

"Not more than a couple of minutes," I replied.

"It doesn't seem possible," he said. "During that time I had a dream that pretty nearly took me around the world.